

REMARKS

In order to put the claims in better form for appeal, applicant respectfully requests that the foregoing amendment to claim 87 be entered. As noted in the pending Office Action, the word "company" had been omitted from claim 87. The instant amendment adds the missing word.

Applicant respectfully submits that the patent application is in condition for allowance. If, in the opinion of the Examiner, a telephone conference would expedite the prosecution of the subject application, the Examiner is invited to call the undersigned attorney.

Respectfully submitted,
